

Henderson Pacific
Dragon Fund

In the volatile world of investment, you need to know how to use the inevitable swings in markets to your advantage.

By staying focused on the long term fundamentals of companies and markets, the Henderson Pacific Dragon Fund can exploit short term volatility to invest in dynamic growth companies with long term valuation upside and clear earnings catalysts. Driven by a high conviction stock-picking approach of around 40 stocks, the Fund is currently positioned with a focus on domestic Asia, and away from export sectors. We are overweight on China, India and Taiwan for country allocation; financials, property and infrastructure for sector allocation.

We believe Asia region still offers some of the most exciting long term growth prospects in the world. Opportunities are still appearing to buy good companies at close to trough valuations.

The Henderson Pacific Dragon Fund has achieved a consistent, top quartile track record over 1 and 3 years*.
